Dear Angie,

You are helping prepare students for learning in the classroom and beyond. Your gift of $130.00 provides free crayons, pencils, notebooks and more to teachers of students in need. We are grateful for your support, especially in this unpredictable time.

Recently a teacher share, "The resources that have been given to us really helps each child in the classroom. It takes the burden off them to focus on learning and not the fact that they might not have a pencil, paper, glue or other things to complete daily assignments. These items also help teachers not have to buy them."

In a recent survey from the Kids In Need Foundation, 89% of teachers reported that access to free school supplies supported classroom preparedness. Crayons to Classrooms exists to ease the burden of families who can't afford school supplies and support teachers who often fill the gap with their own funds. Teachers visit our retail-style "store" and stock up on needed classroom supplies free of charge. With supplies from Crayons to Classrooms, teachers can continue to focus on teaching and students can be worry-free knowing they have the supplies they need.

Thank you for making this possible and support teachers and students in our community.

With gratitude,

Amy Kopp
